

CONNELLVILLE BOY, IN HOSPITAL, WOUNDED BY GERMAN BOMBER; CAPTAIN COMPANY E KILLED; MORE COMPANY D MEMBERS WOUNDED

MISSILE THROWN BY BOCHE AIRMAN STRIKES SERGEANT WILBERT STILLWAGON, CO. D

Wound Inflicted is Worse Than the One for Which He was Being Treated, Letter Received Yesterday Says, but it is Not Serious, He Tells Mother.

ANOTHER LOCAL BOY IN THE SAME HOSPITAL

In a hospital in France undergoing treatment for a wound received in battle, Sergeant Wilbert M. Stillwagon of Company D, 110th Infantry, received a worse wound when the hospital was bombed August 1 by German airmen, according to a letter received yesterday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stillwagon of Edna street. Sergeant Stillwagon was not seriously wounded by the second missile which apparently struck his hand. He was unconscious for a time.

Although he makes no mention of the raid Private James E. Collins of Company D, was in the same hospital, Base Hospital No. 3, according to a letter to his sister, Mrs. Margaret Steck of East Fayette street.

The letter from Sergeant Stillwagon reads:

"Dear parents and sisters: "My friend, Mr. Bark will now take the time and pleasure of doing me a favor in writing home to you for me. The slight wound I spoke of in the letter I wrote to you on August 1 was a very small one along side what I have now, though the wounds I have now are slight also.

"On the night of August 1, I was sleeping soundly. About midnight I was awakened to find my tent down. As soon as I was able to realize where I was I discovered that we had been visited by air raiders. There were several bombs dropped but I only heard one slightly and that was the one that knocked me unconscious.

"They are treating us just fine here. In fact we receive better treatment in this hospital than we would in a private hospital at home. They also feed us very well. Yesterday I had chocolate pudding for dinner and it surely hit the spot, as you know how much I enjoy it. Little did I think when I wrote my last letter that I should have part of J. E.'s rest; that I was going to start in the following day and get more rest than he did. (J. E. is J. Emmett Stillwagon, his brother, who is in a naval hospital at Fort Lyons, Col.)

"I am going to get up in a few moments and take a short stroll, as it gets tiresome lying here. My friend, who is writing this, and I have just had our hands dressed. I feel a good deal better. My friend's is a slight wound in the left hand. I hold the paper with my left hand and he writes my letter with his right. With this I will bring my letter to an end. Give everybody my best regards."

The letter was dated August 5, at Base Hospital No. 3. The parents have not yet received the first letter mentioned.

The letter from Private Collins reads: "I thought that I would try and answer that letter of yours which I got started and never got finished. But I think I will have lots of time now for the Dutch thought I needed a rest and they certainly gave it to me and I think I will be on the job in this place for quite a while. But while I am here I won't have to duck 'whizz-bangs' and say, maybe that isn't some job. And they shoot them right at you. That's what makes it tough.

"I got a few of the flat-heads though before they got me. We can't keep up to the Dutch and you can't even get near enough to use a bayonet on them. Say sis, maybe these people don't treat you swell over here. You don't want for a thing and they are right there when you do want anything. That old song, 'I don't want to get well' fits just right over here. "I suppose the old town is cleaned out by this time but if a fellow would happen to drop in there I guess he would have a grand time. Wouldn't I like to be the first one back to that burg though. I have not run into any of the boys from Camp Lee over here yet but heard they were here and I certainly would like to see 'Stilly' and a few of the others. Well, sis, writing paper is scarce over here and I will write more when I get a larger amount."

SOLDIERS REALLY DO WASHING, SO THEY DO, SAYS VANCE
Many people at home have been credulous about believing that the soldiers do their own laundry work, a conviction strengthened by the personal knowledge many persons have of the utter lack of experience in this art by most of the men who have gone out from civil life to become army men.

To William G. Vance, a former member of old Company D of the "Fighting Tenth," and known to his former comrades as "Woody" Vance, The Courier is indebted for authentic answer to this question that has raised doubts in the minds of many readers. Writing from London, England, where he is stationed as a member of the Royal Engineers, Vance sends a post card on one side of which is a life-size portrait, under the title of "They Do," of Scottish soldiers washing their "kitties" and other garments and hanging them out to dry without even noticing the bursting shells that fill the air in the vicinity. On the reverse of the card Vance pens the following sentence:

"The 'Ladies from Hell' do, so they do." This information must set at rest all doubts about the practice by soldiers of one of the most necessary domestic arts as relaxation from the practice of the arts of war.

PLENTY OF TESTIMONY OF THE HUN'S HANDIWORK
Describing his experiences in battle, Lieutenant Ralford Purman of Company K, 110th Regiment, writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Purman of Waynesburg, as follows: "The truth of it was that I was in the identical spot that the German high command had decided to place a barrage. The shells descended and the heavens and earth gave testimony of his handiwork. I came out of it without a scratch but considerably mused up and with shell shock and a mouth full of gas, but I intend to be out of here in a few days and back with the boys."

LIEUTENANT COLONEL FETZER OF 110TH KILLED IN ACTION; COLONEL COULTER WITH 109TH

Among the casualties recently sustained by the 110th Regiment was the death in action of Lieut. Colonel Wallace W. Fetzer. It seems not to have been generally known in this section that Lieut. Colonel Henry W. Coulter of Greensburg had been transferred to another regiment and that Lieut. Colonel Fetzer had succeeded him as second in command of the 110th. This occurred in July when Lieut. Colonel Fetzer, who was attached to the 109th Regiment, and Lieut. Colonel Coulter exchanged commands, the former being with the 110th during the actions on the Marne, in which he met his death.

Lieut. Colonel Fetzer was born at Montandon, Montgomery county. He was a graduate of Bucknell University and a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He entered the National Guard of Pennsylvania as a

MESSAGES ARE RECEIVED BY SIX FAMILIES

All Reported to Be Severely Wounded But One, He Seriously Injured.

NO MORE DEATHS OCCUR

Letters Arriving in Advance of War Department Telegrams Tell of Missions to James E. Collins and William G. Younk, Both of Co. D.

Telegrams from the War Department telling of several others of Company D, 110th Infantry, wounded in battle July 30 and August 1, were delivered to relatives in Connellsville and vicinity last evening. No further deaths were reported. Six messages came over the wires. Five read "seriously wounded," one "seriously injured." The list follows:

PRIVATE WILLIAM G. YOUNKIN, Connellsville.

PRIVATE ROBERT M. GRAY, Connellsville.

PRIVATE JAMES E. COLLINS, Connellsville.

PRIVATE CLARENCE W. REAGAN, Connellsville.

PRIVATE MIKE KROPPE, Leisening.

Seriously Injured.

PRIVATE HERMAN J. CARR, Dunbar.

A letter written to Ira Younk, a brother of Private Younk, under date of August 8, received yesterday, said Younk was wounded in the shoulder, not severely, and that he was in a hospital. It is presumed the War Department messages refer to the same wound.

Similarly a message came by mail from Private "Jimmy" Collins to his sister, Mrs. Margaret Steck, of East Fayette street, saying he was in Base Hospital No. 3. "I think I will be on the job here for some time," the letter says, indicating that he is severely wounded. He does not tell more of his hurts.

Clarence Warren Reagan is a son of John S. Reagan, a Civil War veteran, living in Eighth street, West Side, with his son, Harry Reagan, who is employed by the West Penn Power company. He is a brother of Mrs. John C. Stillwagon, the mother of Sergeant Wilbert M. Stillwagon, who is in a base hospital, wounded.

Robert M. Gray is a brother of Alva D. Gray, who is also a member of Company D.

MORE DEAD AND MISSING IN COMPANIES OF THE 110TH

Later reports of casualties in the 110th Regiment includes the death in action of Corporal Floyd Miller and Private Lewis Rector, both of Company I. Miller was killed July 27 and Rector August 12.

Eight members of Company G, Hollidaysburg, are reported missing in action on July 30. They are: Privates C. Howard Vance, Duncan R. McIntyre, Harry E. Rhine and Bernard D. Robinson, Altoona; John M. Anderson, Bellwood; Charles F. Stewart and Alfred Smith, Hollidaysburg; and Francis Diehl, Tyrone.

Three names have been added to the list of missing from Company K. They are: Otto Fordyce of East Waynesburg; Russel Yoder, of Waynesburg; and George T. McNelly of Wind Ridge, Greene county.

JIM McPARTLAND IS SAFE OVERSEAS

James J. McPartland, member of Company E, 6th Engineers, has arrived overseas, according to a card received at The Courier office today.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY COMMITTEE MEETING IN UNIONTOWN AUG. 31

Candidates Will Be Present to Meet Voters From All Over Fayette.

A meeting of the Republican county committee will be held in the large court room in Uniontown on August 31 for the election of a chairman of other business that will be brought up at the time. Republicans from all parts of the county are extended an invitation to attend, as the meeting is likely to be the only one held.

Many of the Republican candidates will be present to meet the voters and it is expected that hundreds of the party will be at the court house on that day.

Among the candidates that will be present at the meeting are Senator William C. Sprull, S. A. Kendall, W. Barry Baker, Thomas S. Crago, and Charles A. Snyder.

SPAIN TO RETALIATE

Will Seize German Intended Ships to Replace Those Sunk By U-Boats.

By Associated Press.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 24.—Germany has energetically protested against the intention of Spain to replace sunken Spanish tonnage by interned German ships, according to an official statement issued in Berlin.

A Madrid dispatch August 21 stated that the Spanish ambassador at Berlin had been instructed to inform the German government that Spain will utilize German vessels now in Spanish ports in place of Spanish ships sunk by German submarines.

NEWS OF DEATH OF JAMES ZUNDELL IS RECEIVED BY WIFE

Fell in Battle on July 30, War Department Message Says.

CAPTAIN BRYCE CABLES

Commander of Supply Company Is Safe; No Confirmation Yet of Reports of Death of Lieut. William C. Stevenson of Mount Pleasant.

Official news of the death of Captain James Zundell of Company E, 110th Infantry, reached Mount Pleasant last night through a telegram from the War Department to Mrs. Zundell at Lattrobe and telephoned to the captain's sister, Miss Margaret Zundell at Mount Pleasant. Reports that news of the death of First Lieutenant William C. Stevenson had been officially confirmed were spread abroad at the same time, but they later proved to be unfounded.

During the day there came a cablegram from Captain Gerard S. Bryce of the 110th Supply Company saying that he was safe and well. The message was delivered to Mrs. Bryce, his wife. It was reported the message concerning the deaths of Captain Zundell and Lieutenant Stevenson had come to Mrs. Bryce, but this proved to be erroneous.

Unconfirmed mail reports have come on two or three occasions of the death of Lieutenant Stevenson, but inquiry of relatives at the War Department failed to verify them.

The reports of the deaths of the two officers spread over the town between 9 and 10 o'clock and the streets were soon thronged with people.

Part of the time since her husband went to the front Mrs. Zundell has been living at her former home at Lattrobe. Before her marriage she was Miss Marjorie Hughes of that place. The captain's sister, Miss Margaret, makes her home with her uncle, Oliver Zundell, at Mount Pleasant. She formerly lived with Captain and Mrs. Zundell.

Captain Zundell was about 35 years old. He had been in the service for a number of years. He enlisted as a private and worked his way to the command of the company, succeeding Lloyd J. Kalp. Captain Zundell was employed by the H. C. Frick Coke company as civil engineer and several years ago narrowly escaped death when he was caught between the cage and the shaft at Leisening. He was a member of the United Presbyterian church and also a member of the Elks.

FIVE MILLION PLANT TO BE ERRECTED BY WEST PENN POWER

In the Allegheny Valley to Overcome the Great Power Shortage.

GOVERNMENT WILL AID

To the Extent of Providing $2,000,000 of the Capital Necessary for the Improvement; Contracts for Two Big Generators Already Let, is Said.

Following the meeting of bankers in Pittsburgh yesterday to consider an enlargement of the power-producing facilities of the West Penn Power company, the announcement has been made that assistance will be given by the government in the erection of a large generating station in the Allegheny Valley at a cost of $5,000,000 to partially relieve the power shortage in the Pittsburgh industrial district. The generating plant will be erected within a year on a site as yet undetermined near a coal mine of the company. Several sites are under consideration, including one in the Freeport district, says the Pittsburgh Dispatch. Of the $5,000,000 necessary the government has offered to supply $2,000,000.

At the request of the company more than 90 bankers from parts of the United States as far west as Chicago arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday for the purpose of inspecting the various plants of the company with the view of financing the company's end of the proposition. Yesterday they were taken to the Windsor power plant at Decatur, W. Va., and today they are on a tour of the Connellsville region, which will include an inspection of the generating station in the herd bottom. At a dinner last night the bankers listened to the arguments of members of the company as to the desirability of certain sites. No action was taken and will not be until the bankers fully acquaint themselves with all the various proposed sites, according to A. M. Lynn, president of the company.

It is understood that contracts have already been made with the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company for two turbo generators of 29,000 kilowatts each. The plan provides for the erection of the necessary transmission system throughout the Connellsville coke region and the Pittsburgh district, to make possible the furnishing of electric power in large quantities to industrial concerns which are now making or are about to make munitions and other vital war material.

BABY SHOW AT RED CROSS FAIR LIKELY TO BE BIG EVENT

Registration of Little Folks to be Entered Will Start Tuesday at Carnival Headquarters.

The baby show, under the direction of Mrs. H. C. Hays, gives promise of being one of the biggest features of the Red Cross fair. Hundreds of babies, Mrs. Hays believes, will be entered. Peach street, east, has been set aside for the show. It will be enclosed and suitably decorated and arranged by George P. Pritchard. Registration of babies will start Tuesday at the headquarters in the Veebo building. An entry fee of 50 cents will be charged. All children up to three years will be eligible.

A cup will be given to the winner in a popularity contest to be decided by votes sold at a penny apiece. Another cup will be the prettiest babe, the judges to be persons from out of town. Other prizes will be given for the lightest, heaviest, etc. Makers of baby food, baby powders and other preparations will offer prizes, perhaps.

The admission to the show will be a dime. In case of rain the show will be in Pritchard's hall.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 24.—A large number of cannon, including complete batteries of howitzers and trench mortars have been captured by the British, north of the Somme. Immediately south of the river the British have taken 12 cannon. The village of Behagnies, two miles and a half north of Bapaume on the Bapaume-Arras highway, has been reached by the British. British forces are operating east of Bihucourt, within two miles and a half of Bapaume, on the west.

British forces are reported to have reached points east of Henin, on the Cojeul river, five miles southeast of Arras. They are in the outskirts of St. Leger, farther south and have captured Ervillers, two miles east of Courcelles. They are still advancing.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—British attacks in the Albert sector were resumed this morning, according to an official statement issued by the war office today which says that the British have made progress.

In the fighting during the last three days the British have captured 14,000 prisoners.

BANKERS AND OWNERS OF WEST PENN POWER COMPANY VISIT HERE

Officials Visit Plant at Fayette; Confering With Bankers on Proposed New Plant.

Following a conference with West Penn Power company officials in Pittsburgh yesterday, when the proposed new $5,000,000 power plant to be erected in cooperation with the government was discussed, bankers of the country are today making a trip over the West Penn lines, through this place and Uniontown. The party, consisting of 25 bankers and officials, arrived here at 11:30 o'clock and had lunch in this city. Later they visited the power plant at Fayette.

The trip over the West Penn lines was made in a special car. Arrangements were made to dine at the officials here at noon, 50 eating at the Arlington hotel, 40 at the Smith house and 35 at the Royal hotel.

Among the bankers who are attending the power plant conference are men from Maine to Georgia. The government has agreed to furnish $2,000,000 in the erection of the new plant and officials of the power company are attempting to work out a plan with the visiting bankers for the remaining $3,000,000. The new plant will probably be erected at Freeport, on the Allegheny river.

"MOTHER" COULTER DISPLAYS THE SPIRIT OF MOTHERS OF BOYS OF THE 110TH REGIMENT

The Brownsville Telegraph relates an incident which splendidly illustrates the spirit of the mothers of the boys of the 110th Regiment. Some days ago F. A. Kelly, J. K. Bush and Solomon Redlingshafer of Brownsville, all of whom served with the old Tenth during the Spanish-American war and the Philippine Insurrection, visited Greensburg. While there they called to pay their respects to the mother of "the Coulter boys." "Duck," now Brigadier General Richard Coulter, whom they knew as a second lieutenant of Company I during the Philippine campaigns, and who was commander of the Tenth Regiment, National Guard, before receiving his appointment as brigadier general, and Henry W. Coulter, whom they knew as a private in the Philippines, and who later became second in command of the 110th Regiment, now serving with the 109th Regiment. The visitors were cordially greeted by this mother of soldiers, and the wife of a soldier—the late General Richard Coulter, commander of the famous 11th Pennsylvania Reserves during the Civil War.

"Isn't it glorious to live in times like these?" she said. "Why, I would not be happy if I did not know that my boys were over there fighting to free the world from tyranny."

Mrs. Coulter, who is in her 78th year, is active in all war work the women of Greensburg are doing with so much industry and faithfulness.

"Mother Coulter's spirit," says the Telegraph, "is the spirit of the mothers of the boys of the 110th—our Tenth." Such mothers find solemn joy in the death of such boys as stopped the Hun at the Marne.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

A Red Cross benefit play was held yesterday at the home of Misses Adele, Marie, Margaret, Sylvia, Dorothy, Elma and Alverda Ixiano, Misses Evelyn McMullen, Mildred Shipley, Marian Gilmore, and Messrs. FRENCH PLANES TO BE EXHIBITED AT RED CROSS FAIR

Plans for the Red Cross street carnival were advanced at a general committee meeting held last night in the Maccabee Hall and the success of the affair, which will be the biggest thing of the kind ever held in Connelville is assured. One of the biggest features of the entire carnival—two disabled French aeroplanes—is being arranged for and the committee in charge has good assurance that the machines can be secured for the week.

The French aeroplanes were disabled by the Germans but were able to land back of their own lines. They were brought to this country and have been on exhibition in many places. The machines which have been in actual fighting would be the biggest attraction of the entire week. No fights would be made in them however, as both are damaged.

Arrangements have also been completed to have three Red Cross teams from the surrounding cko works come to the city each night of the carnival and to have in a tent which will be established for any cases of medical needs which may arise.

Almost every church in the city is represented some way, either in booths or novelty selling and every committee is working hard. All churches wishing to operate novelty stands should make application to Jesse Cypher, chairman of the novelty committee, who has the novelties on hand and who will supply the sellers. Church committees which have not yet reported to W. E. DeBolt, chairman of the building committee, should do so not later than Monday in order that booths may be erected for them.

Volunteer labor to assist in the erection of the booths is asked for and the carpenters union will hold a meeting tonight to act on the matter. The carpenters will turn out a large number of volunteers. The erection of the shows and stands will begin three nights before the opening of the carnival.

Friday night has been designated as Uniontown night. That evening a large delegation from Uniontown will come here and Judge J. Q. Van Swearing will make an address early in the evening. The Uniontown delegation will be accompanied by the Military Band.

The music committee has arranged to have seven brass bands in the city during the week. The Scottsdale band will be here twice and the local players will also be on the job.

There has been some rumor that the carnival committee would ask the stores to close on Saturday afternoon. The matter was reported at the meeting last night and denied. The stores will not be asked to close at any time.

There will be another general committee meeting on Wednesday evening at which time all members of every committee are asked to be present.

LOCAL WAR NEWS

WRITES TO ACCOMPANIMENT OF ROAR OF ARTILLERY.

"I am taking the honor and am writing you a few lines to let you know that I am enjoying the best health and wish you and the rest of your family the same, says John W. Penello, writing to his brother-in-law, William Guerrier. "At the present time I am somewhere in France, and believe me, it is some place. Sam Goodman's joint is not to be compared with these apartments. They are fully up to date for our common use. I have been in France for some time and have been patrolling most of the land within sight or hearing and at the same time I have mastered a few French words and am able to get along with my French comrades very nicely."

"I have been in the lines on three different occasions and each time came out in good shape. I am ready at any time to return. At present it looks as if the war is in its last scene and that the Kaiser has met men superior to his own. If everything goes right I will still be able to eat my Christmas dinner at home."

"France is surely a beautiful country but the U. S. A. stands alone. "Well, I'll have to quit. While I was writing this letter I was entertained by the roar of the enemy guns, but little damage was done."

Penello is a member of a medical detachment.

JOHN POWELL HAS ARRIVED IN FRANCE.

Mrs. Mary Powell, whose home is near Connelville, has received word that her son, John Powell, Company E, 49th Engineers, has arrived in France.

$5,000,000 PLANT TO BE ERECTED BY WEST PENN POWER

company will finance $3,000,000 of the cost of the new generating station, the remainder of the estimated cost being furnished by the government. Three years after the ending of the war the redemption cost of the plant will be determined by a board of three disinterested appraisers, one to be chosen by the secretary of war, one by the West Penn Power company and the third by the agreement of the first two. Whatever appraisements this board makes will be subject to the review and revision of the secretary of war. The West Penn Power company agrees to repay to the government such part of the $2,000,000 advanced by the government as the board of appraisers decides is the value of the plant in normal times above the $3,000,000 invested by the company. In other words, if the board of appraisers, three years after the war, decides that the plant can then be duplicated for $3,500,000 and the secretary of war approves this appraisement, the West Penn Power company will repay the government $500,000.

The assumption is that values of such buildings, electrical equipment and transmission material as may be necessary to complete the 40,000 kilowatt generating plant are now during abnormal times at least 66 per cent above the normal cost in peace times, and the government undertakes to assume this extra investment inasmuch as it is being made to assist in the more speedy production of war material. The West Penn Power company assumes the risk that in normal times it will be able to profitably use a large part of the increased generating capacity, sufficient at least to give an adequate return on its investment of $2,000,000. So far as is known, no provision is made for any return to the company of any of its investment in case the appraised value of the plant three years after the war is less than the $3,000,000 invested, or in case the demand for power is not then sufficient to make profitable the continued operation of the plant.

The method of raising the needed $3,000,000 has not been decided upon, according to Mr. Lynn, and it will be left entirely to the judgment of the bankers.

Mr. Lynn said last night that the government will have full charge of the distribution of power from all the plants of the company, and that every effort will be made to cooperate with the government in every way.

MOUNT NEBO U. B. CHURCH TO OBSERVE 60TH ANNIVERSARY

Former Pastors Are to Speak at Service at Gathering Near Scottsdale Tomorrow.

SCOTSDALE, Aug. 24.—The sixtieth anniversary of the Mount Nebo church of the United Brethren, near this place, will be observed tomorrow. The speakers of the day will be Rev. I. P. Truxal at 10:30; former pastors and others at 2, and Dr. H. F. Shupe, editor of the Watchword, at 7:30.

The church has had an interesting history. In the year 1858 a class was organized in the Frosts' neighborhood near the present site of Scottsdale. This band of Christian people met and worshipped for about five years in the Frosts' stone school house.

At the end of this time the class took action to build a church house, and the following were chosen as a board of trustees: Solomon Keister, Adam Stuber and Martin N. Stauffer. A lot of land was procured from Joseph B. and Catherine Stoner, and a frame building 30x40 was erected. The building was dedicated the fall of 1863 by Rev. W. B. Dick, the pastor, and named Mount Nebo.

A complete list of the pastors prior to the year 1863 cannot be given, but among the number these may be mentioned: Revs. W. B. Dick, J. B. Rosser, E. B. Kophart, J. Wallace, D. Speck, J. Metzger, D. Schorer, D. Strayer, William Wrag, Robert Rankin and Isiah Potter. Beginning with the year 1883, a correct list of the pastors and their terms is presented as follows:

Rev. A. L. Funk, 1883-1886; Rev. W. R. Funk, D. D., 1886-1888; Rev. L. P. Truxal, 1888-1891; Rev. B. L. Seneff, 1891-1893; Rev. G. W. Schorrick, D. D., 1893-1896; Rev. Frank Sanders, fall of 1896; Rev. S. W. Keister, D. D., 1896; Rev. D. Speck, 1896-1898; Rev. W. H. Spangler, 1898-1903; Rev. J. L. Leichliter, 1903-1906; Rev. J. J. Funk, 1906-1914; Rev. T. W. Burgess, 1914-1917; Rev. F. A. Kistley, 1917.

During the pastorate of Rev. I. P. Truxal, the old building was razed, the church lot was increased and the present brick building was erected on the old site and dedicated, free of debt, in September, 1899, by Rev. Dr. G. A. Funkhouser.

CENTER OF MANY LEGENDS

Famous Dome of the Rock, in the Holy Land, Has Long Been Held Sacred Place.

The Mussulman's grief at the fall of Jerusalem is largely centered in the fate of the Dome of the Rock. For centuries devout Mohammedans have journeyed to this spot, which they count second only to the holy places of Mecca in religious significance.

Directly under the rounded dome topped with the Turkish crescent is the sacred rock about which a host of traditions—Jewish, Christian and Mohammedan—have been collected. From this rock Mohammed ascended into heaven on his steed El Buraik, the lightning. Here also, if tradition is worth anything, resided Noah's ark, and Jacob saw the angels heaven when this spot is 18 miles nearer heaven than any other on the earth, and the Turks accept the old Jewish theory that this is the center of the earth. Here on the judgment day will the angel Gabriel stand when no sounds his trumpet.

There is little room for argument over these statements. You accept or reject them as you will. But long and heated have been the learned dissertations to decide whether this identical spot, already overcrowded with associations, is the site of Solomon's temple or of the tomb of Christ. Science now leans toward the former conclusion and grants that very likely the rock marks the place where stood the altar of the famous Jewish temple.

Even for a confirmed skeptic the place must hold some interest, for the structure protecting the rock is a worthy rival of the Taj Mahal in beauty of design. The building is octagonal like a mosque and popularly called the Mosque of Omar, to the distress of the well informed, who point out that it is only a shrine and that the true Mosque of Omar is a small vaulted building in no way connected with the sacred rock.

Mohammedan worship is as yet undisturbed by the victory of the Christians, the chief difference being that the Mohammedan is now the tenant and the unbeliever the landlord.

The Kaiser as I Knew Him For Fourteen Years

ARTHUR N. DAVIS, D. D. S.

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

It was in the fall of 1916. The Kaiser had come to me for professional attention, and after my work was completed he remained to discuss some of the aspects of the war. Perhaps the fact that I had just returned from a visit to America made him more than usually eager for a chat with me.

We had discussed various phases of the war, when the Kaiser changed the subject abruptly with the question: "Davis, what's the matter with your country?"

"In what respect, your majesty?" I asked.

"Why is it that your country is so unfair to Germany? Why do you persist in supplying munitions and money to the allies? Why doesn't your president treat the European warring nations the same as he treated Mexico by putting an embargo on munitions and letting us fight this thing out ourselves? You do not ship munitions to us, why do you ship them to the other side?"

I was on such terms with the Kaiser that I did not hesitate to answer his question with another.

"I have always understood, your majesty, that during the Russian-Japanese war, Germany continually supplied munitions to Russia. Why was that any more justifiable than America supplying munitions to the allies? Then again, in the Spanish-American

"Davis, you surprise me!" the Kaiser interrupted, rising from the operating chair, in which he had remained, walking towards me, throwing back his shoulders and rising to his full height. "The cases are entirely different. When we helped Russia against Japan we were helping a white race against a yellow race, don't you forget that—don't ever forget that. But with America, that is certainly not the case. Your country is acting from purely mercenary motives. It is a case of dollars, dollars, dollars!"—and each time he repeated the word he struck his partially helpless left hand violently with his powerful right.

"America values dollars more than she values German lives! She thinks it right to shoot down my people." He had worked himself up to a degree of indignation which I had seen him display only on two or three previous occasions, and I must confess I was reluctant to start a fresh outburst by answering his arguments. His eyes, usually soft and kindly, flashed fire as he advanced towards me and slowly and inclusively declared: "Davis, America—must—be—punished—for—her—actions!"

In that expression, which he repeated on subsequent occasions in precisely the same words and with the same measured emphasis, I knew that he revealed most clearly what his attitude was and will ever be toward this country.

CHAPTER II.

The Kaiser at Potsdam.

Getting out of Germany proved to be a far more difficult proposition than I had imagined.

Realizing that it would probably be several months before I could finally settle up my affairs, and that my child, who was anemic, ought to be taken out of Germany with as little delay as possible because food conditions were fast going from bad to worse, I applied to the commandant for leave to have my wife and child go to Montreux, on Lake Geneva, Switzerland, where I hoped to join them at the earliest possible moment and accompany them home. I did not relish the idea of their going across the ocean without me.

That was in May, 1917. Weeks passed while our application was going from one official to another, lying, perhaps for days at a time under a pile of other applications of a similar character or awaiting the investigation of our personal histories, and it was not until the end of June that we received any word regarding it. Then we learned that it had been denied.

This was my first intimation that we might have difficulty in getting out of Germany.

A day or two later the Kaiser called on me professionally and I told him of our plight, hoping that he would intercede for us. It was the only favor of a personal character I had ever asked of him.

"My child is ailing, your majesty," I said, "and I feel that she needs a change of climate. I applied to the commandant for leave for my wife and child to go to Montreux, but I have just heard that it has been refused!"

"Davis, I will see what I can do in the matter," he replied reassuringly, and as he was leaving my office he turned to me and said in the presence of his two adjutants: "Regarding that matter you spoke of, leave it to me and I will see what I can do!"

The Kaiser's influence would readily solve our problem, I thought, and I was very much relieved. Two days later, however, I received a letter from Count von Moltke, one of the Kaiser's adjutants, stating that the Kaiser had spoken to him regarding the circumstances, it was out of the question. If, however, my child's condition were such as to make a change of climate really necessary, he added, the Kaiser suggested that a trip to the Austrian Tyrol might perhaps be arranged, as the climate there was just as good as that of Switzerland, but before permission would be granted for that trip it would be necessary to obtain a certificate from the district doctor stating that it was necessary.

NEVER SUCH A REMEDY FOR PILES

It will cost any sufferer 30 cents to prove that bleeding, itching or protruding piles, no matter how chronic or how painful, can quickly be helped. Go to Laughey Drug Co., Conneltsville, or the Boardway Drug Co., Scottdale, today, hand them 30c, say "I want a jar of San Cura Ointment" and if you aren't satisfied—your money back.

Yes, and more; try San Cura Ointment for old sores that people say will never heal, for fever sores, for itching skin, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, chapped hands, face or lips, for ulcers, carbuncles, boils, sore nipples and broken breasts.

It draws out poison; that's the secret of the wonderful success of San Cura Ointment; that's why it so quickly heals scalds, burns, cuts and bruises. It's best to use San Cura Soap at all times, it is a great aid in banishing pimples, blackheads and the germs of disease. 25 cents. Thompson Medical Co., Titusville, Pa.—Adv.

most vivid in my memory. It was about three-thirty one Sunday morning when I was aroused by a maid who, in an awe-stricken tone of voice, announced that the Neue Palais, the Kaiser's palace at Potsdam, was on the phone. I went to the telephone and was informed that the Kaiser was suffering from a bad toothache and would send his auto for me within an hour or so.

I got up at once and packed my instruments, and at six-thirty the car, a big gray Mercedes limousine, arrived. Besides the chauffeur there was an outsider carrying the bag whose distinctive notes only the Kaiser may use.

While the Shell room and other state rooms were accessible to visitors before the war, no one was ever permitted to visit the private apartments of the Kaiser upstairs.

On this occasion, however, I was guided right through the Shell room, through a door opening on the left and up a wide staircase to the Kaiser's wardrobe, or dressing room.

There I found breakfast ready for me. It consisted of real coffee, real white bread, butter, marmalade, sugar, cream and cold meats. It was the first food of the kind I had eaten in some time and practically no one in Germany outside the royal family and the Junkers was any better off than I in that respect.

While I was breakfasting, the Kaiser was dressing. His valet entered several times, I noticed, to take out articles of clothing from the massive wardrobes which lined the room. I had just completed my meal when I received word that my patient was ready to receive me.

Insists That Frail, Nervous Women Can Speedily Become Strong and Vigorous

A Vigorous Healthy Body, Sparkling Eyes and Health-Colored Cheeks Come in Two Weeks, Says Discoverer of Bio-feren.

World's Grandest Health Builder Costs Nothing Unless It Gives to Women the Buoyant Health They Long for.

It is safe to say that right here in this big city are tens of thousands of weak, nervous, run-down, depressed women who in two weeks' time could make themselves so healthy, so attractive and so keen-minded that they would compel the admiration of all their friends.

The vital health building elements that these dependent women lack are all plentifully supplied in Bio-feren. If you are ambitious, crave success in life, want to have a healthy, vigorous body, clear skin and eyes that show no dullness, make up your mind to get a package of Bio-feren right away.

It costs but little and you can get an original package at any drugstore anywhere.

Take two tablets after each meal and one at bedtime—seven a day for seven days—then one after meals (all are gone). Then if you don't feel twice as good, look twice as attractive and feel twice as strong as before you started, your money is waiting for you. It belongs to you, for the discoverer of Bio-feren doesn't want one penny of it unless it fulfills all claims.

Note to Physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-feren. It is printed on every package. Here it is: Lactogen, Calcium Glycero-phosphate, Iron, Potassium, Manganese, Peptonate, Ext. Nux Vomica, Powder, Gentian, Phosphatidol, Oleoresin Capsicum, Etc.

"GET THE KAISER"

A Washington correspondent who has been obtaining from returning Congressmen expressions as to the sentiment of their constituents, declares that there is everywhere throughout the United States "a war enthusiasm and war determination beyond what members of Congress had thought to exist."

"The most significant thing the Congressmen have learned from the people," says the correspondent, "is now that they are in the war, they have determined that this shall be the last war, and that there shall be no peace of an inconclusive character."

A realization of the enormity of Germany's crimes against humanity and civilization; that the responsibility rests personally with the Kaiser and his war lords, and knowledge of the fact that our own boys are giving their lives freely for an ideal which is the exact opposite of Germany's aims in the war, has aroused the great body of American people to the absolute necessity of removing from the face of the earth forever, the cause of the horrible war into which the world has been plunged for four long years.

We may have been a trifle slow in coming to a full comprehension of the situation, but now that we know the purposes controlling the Kaiser when he delayed Europe in a flood of murder and barbarism, there no longer exists any shadow of doubt among either civilians or soldiers as to the aim of the United States in the war.

"It is epitomized," says the correspondent, "in the phrase: 'Get the Kaiser!' Every American soldier appears to be animated by that one ambition. 'Kaiser Bill' is foremost in their minds as they sail for the battlefield. Their whole idea is one of a great American offensive which will not halt until the peace gates of Prussia are battered down and the Emperor and his heir are dragged out and sent into exile for life or to the gallows."

"Until the war has been brought to a close, and in Berlin, that citizen is a traitor and defender of the honor of our boys who have fallen in battle," who would even hint at the desirability of concluding a compromise peace with the Hohenzollern gang of national bandits.

"On to Berlin! Get the Kaiser!" must be the slogan at home as well as the battle-cry over there.

The hearts of the old Company D boys have been with the younger boys at the front all the while, but they will be just a trifle closer now that their old company commander, Captain Frank B. Hawkins, has attained the rank of colonel, the same rank held by his father, the much-loved "Pop" Hawkins of the old fighting Tenth.

The vote in the Military Affairs Committee and later in the House on the McKenney bill, which would have virtually nullified the new draft law, demonstrates again the dependence of the Administration on Republican patriot-statesmen like Representative Crago and Kahn to assure the success of the measures in the form the Administration wants them, but not as the anti-conscript-tionist, anti-war, pro-German Democrats of the "wild men" type would have them.

We ought not to wait until we feel the call upon our man-power as England is feeling it before we come to a comprehension of the great part the "right little idea" is taking in the war.

The "exalted cause" of the Hun, as their foreign secretary terms it, and the blind supporters of it as well, is due for a lofty tumble which has already commenced to tumble.

"Everything is going well" is Marshal Foch's cheering and confident message. "Everything going to your future place of residence," is doubtless the dependent and also confident message of Lunderdorf to the Kaiser.

If the 11 to 15-ers were as keen to keep to go into the war game as the 18-ers there would be no need for formal extension of draft age limits.

You can go to church and be back home tomorrow before the high point in the temperature is reached and be all the better able to comfortably withstand it.

Liberty Loan Primer

Insidious Hun Propaganda.

Encouraging the feeling that the war will soon be ended, now that the Yanks are in the field in force and taking the offensive, is one of the most insidious and effective forms of present Hun propaganda. And almost every day you hear it, in most cases unconsciously being put forth.

For the average person who advances this idea, and possibly really believes it, is unconsciously playing the Hun game.

He is just as unconsciously a Hun worker; one who is later to be rudely awakened, disappointed and possibly disheartened.

Which is exactly what the Hun propagandists desire.

The end of the war isn't in sight by any means.

Only in one short sector along the Swiss border is the light on German soil.

Germany still holds nearly all of Belgium, a great broad section of northern France, thousands of miles of Russia, and her control of the Balkans is absolute.

Before the end can come all this must be wrested from her.

The finish must be fought out on German soil.

Uncle Sam isn't deluded. Neither is England nor France. Nowhere is preparation for greater effort than ever before diminishing.

Uncle Sam is planning right now to raise $16,000,000,000 for the next year's war expenses. Planning to increase the army to 5,000,000 men.

Getting ready to carry the fight home to the Hun.

So don't be deceived by this Hun-inspired talk of an early finish. Don't be discouraged if the Hun doesn't throw up the sponge before he reaches the Rhine.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

LYNCHING BEES.

Our good, wise President beseeches that we shan't hang to elms or beeches such as may offend, to show the world we're law abiding, all forms of frightfulness deriding, should be our aim and end. We chide the Huns for being brutal, but protestations seem quite futile, and we're thrown out of court, if we take reprisals, some victim choosing, and show him that the lawless lynching is still our out door sport. We're standing up for all things moral; we've taken part in Europe's quarrel to get this planet straight; we need clean hands, and these we're lacking if to the elm tree we go picking the hemp for some poor skate. The three spent at a lynching function, where many men, in vain conjunction, throw golden hours away, might balk the Kaisers Bill and Charley. If it were spent in reaping barley, or haling clover hay, it is a waste of men to hang them; far better round them up and gang them, and send them to the front; there they may scrap with weapons staple, but dead guys swinging from a maple can do no useful stunt. This game, to which we've been addicted should be abolished, or restricted until the war is done, till this is done the world will sass us, and view with scorn, and doubtless class us with Yimgoth and Hun.

THE SOLDIER'S APPEAL.

Won't you write me a cheering letter
And send some news from home?
I'll be on my way most any day,
Sailing through foreign sea foam.

I'll be on my way to sunny France,
Where we'll battle the cruel Hun,
Who quails at the sight of Freedom's might
And scampers away on a run.

We have the Kaiser running now
As he never ran before,
It's no Russian fight, by a hell of a sight,
But has the Yankees sore.

Don't worry about the khaki boys,
As the Yankees never lose;
It isn't much fun, but it's got to be done,
We'll make the Kaiser snore.

So now is the time to do your bit,
While you have the time and the chance;
Don't hesitate, as it's getting late,
And I'm needed now in France.

When with battling against the Hun
The khaki boys are through,
I'll pack my trunk at the Western front
And return, sweetheart, to you.

Pa.), 155th Depot Brigade, Camp Lee, Va.

Just Folks

Edgar A. Guest.

ONE OF MANY LIVES.

"It's not for me," he used to say,
"That I am talking day by day
I'm not so fond of drinking wine
Or wearing garments extra fine.
Or making long and pleasant trips
On modern and exclusive ships.
Without a wife to keep my own
To gratify, I'd be content
With little where'er I went."

"But I am one of many lives,
And each upon my service thrives
Throughout my years of strength and pride."

It is my duty to provide Their pleasures and, by toll, to make
The highways they shall later take
And if I fail they suffer woe,
And if I sin the shame they know,
And if I do not do my best,
In shabby garments they'll be dressed
The battles of the human race."

Think not I tell to win the gold,
The yellow stuff is base and cold.
I would not keep it for my own
It has no charm for me alone
Through winter's snow and summer's heat

I ask but simple fare to eat,
But they whose lives are mine to save
The happiness of life deserve.
I would not ever have them years
For joys that I have strength to earn."

Three Stages in Battery Service

1. For the man with a new battery—We start a man right, show him what to do and what to avoid, and give him a certain amount of free service from our experts till he is thoroughly posted on battery care.

2. For the man whose battery is in the prime of life—Free testing at regular intervals, free advice, helpfulness and courteous cooperation always. Quick repairs at fair prices if some little thing gets out of order.

3. For the man whose battery needs repair—Old age, abuse, accident or some other cause may injure a battery. We have trained experts, proper equipment and tools—everything to handle any battery job and do it right.

When at last you need a new battery, we have the finest and sturdiest one ever built—the "Still Better Willard," with Threaded Rubber Insulation. It costs a little more, but it's a mighty good investment.

FOURTH SUCCESSIVE WEEK OF DECREASE IN COAL PRODUCTION

Loss 273,000 Tons, Reducing Daily Average 54,000 Tons Below the Established Requirements.

According to the report of the United States Geological Survey the week ending August 10 was the fourth successive week of decreasing bituminous coal production in the United States. The output during that week was 12,274,000 net tons, a decrease of approximately 273,000 tons under the previous week's total. This represents a daily production of 2,046,000 net tons or 54,000 tons under the requirement fixed by the United States Fuel Administration for output during the summer months. The falling off in production makes the necessary output per week to meet the nation's needs 14,500,000 net tons during the remaining summer months or until September 30. This amount represents approximately 750,000 net tons more than the record tonnage produced during the week ended July 13, which was the highest ever recorded in the history of the coal industry.

The output during the week of August 10, including lignite and coal coals, is estimated at 12,274,000 net tons as against 12,552,000 net tons during the week of August 3, and 10,630,000 net tons during the current week of 1917. The average production per working day during the week of August 10 is estimated at 2,046,000 net tons as compared with 2,092,000 net tons during the week of August 10, 1917. The daily average during the current week fell 46,000 net tons, or 2.2 per cent below the daily summer requirements established by the United States Fuel Administration.

Shipments during the past week decreased from all districts with exception of Southwest Virginia, Alabama and the district including Illinois, Indiana and Western Kentucky.

Material decreases during the week were as follows: Central Pennsylvania 3.3 per cent, Western Pennsylvania 4.8 per cent, Cumberland-Piedmont and Somerset 5.4 per cent, Fairmont 3.3 per cent, Ohio 6.9 per cent, and Tennessee and Kentucky 8.8 per cent.

Car shortage is the principal factor in limiting production.

At the Theatres

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

"THE FAMILY SKELETON"—A Thomas H. Ince production featuring Charles Ray "Cleopatra," a good comedy with "Toto." Monday and Tuesday, Wm. S. Hart appears in "Shark Monroe." He is the captain of "The Gull," a sailing schooner, and the story tells how Shark comes to love a beautiful girl from the east, and how he follows her up the Great White Trail in Alaska, where he rescues her from a "hazard of the North," proves his courage and wins her love. During the filming of the ocean scenes of this picture, the company was caught in a severe storm at sea and for two days they were tossed about at sea by the gigantic waves.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE FAIR PRETENDER"—The Goldwyn picture which was shown at the Paramount theatre yesterday and is being repeated today has been commented upon by Paramount fans as one of the best yet. The performance of Madge Kennedy and Tom Moore in this popular production is out of the ordinary as both stars have put forth their best efforts to make this production one of their best. An incident that may have been a tragedy in the rehearsal of the play was when during the course of action Miss Kennedy is supposed to be bound and gagged by Paul Doucet, who throws her in a closet and closes the door. Never having been subjected to these indignities, even on the screen, Miss Kennedy meekly resigned herself to Mr. Doucet's trussing. But when in the course of the action Tom Moore rushed in to rescue her, it was seen that had he waited any longer she would have been really strangled. Doucet had nearly choked her into insensibility. It took nearly five minutes to revive Miss Kennedy. The picture is being repeated today for the benefit of those who did not get to see it yesterday. Viola Dana will soon be seen at the Paramount in "Opportunity."

Confluence.

CONFLUENCE, Aug. 23.—The Lutheran Sunday school held a very pleasant picnic yesterday afternoon in Lincoln's grove.

will report Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock at the W. M. C. A. At 6 o'clock they will be served by the Ladies' auxiliary. Red Cross outfits will be given the men and the auxiliary will furnish luncheon.

Edward Kelly Writes.
A letter was received yesterday from Edward Kelly of the 40th Aero Squadron, telling that the boys were well and even had had just a week-end furlough and could go anytime to France if they wished. He stated that the men had all received their pay, and that for a year's foreign service. In his letter were several pictures of French drawn work, the squares being made of linen.

Number Five.
A JOINT RESOLUTION

An amendment to section one of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, relating to taxation.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby acted by the authority of the same, That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:

That section one of article nine, which reads as follows:

the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of the said city of Philadelphia, at any time, there shall be excluded from the calculation and debt of the said city as much of the debt of the said city as shall have been incurred, and the proceeds thereof invested in any public improvement or any character which shall be yielding to the said city an annual current net revenue. The amount of such deduction shall be ascertained by capitalizing the annual net revenue from such improvement during the year immediately preceding the time of such ascertainment;
and such capitalization shall be estimated by ascertaining the principal amount which would yield such annual current net revenue, at the average rate of interest, and sinking-fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by said city for such purposes, up to the time of such ascertainment. The method of determining such amount, so to be deducted, may be prescribed by the General Assembly. In incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than the date of the payment of such sinking-fund, with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity, the payment of such sinking-fund to be in equal or graded annual or other periodical instalments. Where any indebtedness shall be incurred by the city of Philadelphia for the purposes of the improvement or investment of public property, the method of ascertaining the principal amount which would yield such annual current net revenue, at the average rate of interest, and sinking-fund charges payable upon
the indebtedness incurred by said city
for such purposes, up to the time of
such ascertainment, may be prescribed by the General Assembly. In incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than the date of the payment of such sinking-fund, with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity, the payment of such sinking-fund to be in equal or
graded annual or other periodical instalments. Where any indebtedness shall be incurred by the city of Philadelphia for
the purposes of the improvement or investment of public property, the method of ascertaining the principal amount which
would yield such annual current net revenue, at the average rate of interest,
and sinking-fund charges payable upon
the indebtedness incurred by said city
for such purposes, up to the time of
such ascertainment, may be prescribed by the General Assembly.
